INFORMATION FOR CLIENTS &
INFORMED CONSENT FOR INDIVIDUAL THERAPY

APPOINTMENTS AND SCHEDULING:

All appointments are scheduled with our Office Manager, Anne, either in person at the office or by calling 612-927-7335. Press 10 to leave her a voice mail. It is your responsibility to schedule your appointments and keep them. Usually we suggest that you set up a series of appointments to begin as soon as our schedules permit. Please be alert to how many appointments remain in your series and discuss your scheduling options as needed with your clinician. Psychiatric consultations are scheduled one appointment at a time.

If you know that you will not be able to keep an appointment, please call at least 24 hours in advance, or as soon as possible, so that your time can be given to someone waiting for an appointment. Thank you in advance for respecting this request. Repeated missed appointments may jeopardize your access to counseling services.

If Anne is away from her desk or out of the office during office hours, or if you call off-hours, you will reach our voice mail. You may leave a message for anyone of the staff who will listen to your message in private and respond to it confidentially.

We are not a crisis center. The telephone is answered Monday through Friday, usually during business hours. If you are in crisis or believe a crisis may arise, please call the Crisis Connection (a 24-hour service) at 612-379-6363. We do offer some evening appointments.

E-MAIL & SOCIAL NETWORKING POLICIES

Please call our Office Manager (Anne Lied) or voice mail to schedule or re-schedule appointments. Please do not email your therapist information related to your therapy sessions, since email is not completely secure or confidential. If you send an email, we will only respond for purposes of scheduling or appointment reminders. Be aware that all e-mails are retained in the logs of your and Mt. Olivet Counseling Service's Internet service providers. While it may be unlikely that someone reads these, they are available to be read by the system administrator of the Internet service provider. You should also know that any e-mails we receive from you become a part of your legal and therapy records. Please do not use SMS (texting), Twitter, Facebook, or LinkedIn to contact your therapist. These sites are not secure. We do not accept friend requests or contact requests from current or former clients on any social networking site, since adding clients as friends or contacts can compromise your confidentiality and privacy. It may also blur the boundaries of our therapeutic relationship. If you have any questions about this, please ask your therapist when you meet.

FEES

- Fees for members of Mount Olivet are $40.00 per session for counseling services, psychiatric and prescriptive medications sessions. Members' fees are $10.00 per session for groups.
- Fees for non-members are $80.00 per session and $20.00 per session for groups.
- Please contact the office 24 hours in advance of a cancellation. A pattern of cancellations may result in a cancellation fee being assessed.
- Please note: We do not send out monthly bills or do a billing service. You are asked to pay for each session as it occurs. If you are unable to pay the full fee, we ask that you pay something, (a minimum fee is $10.00). Please ask Anne Lied, Office Manager, for an Application for Financial Assistance on which you can indicate what a amount you are able to pay.

CONFIDENTIALITY:

The fact that you are a client ensures that all information about you, as well as the content of your sessions and phone conversations, will be held in strict confidence with the following possible exceptions:

- If you sign a Consent for Release of Information form, you authorize us to communicate specified information about you with one or more specified professionals or agencies outside of this office;
- In order to ensure the best possible care, the interns and professional staff meet regularly to consult and collaborate regarding client care;
- If your records are subpoenaed by signature of a judge, we are required to release them to the court; the therapist will not agree to testify in legal matters related or unrelated to therapy.
- If you are using, mood-altering drugs including alcohol, while pregnant, we are required to report this information;
- If you are a minor (under age 18), your parents have access to your records, unless:
 - You are emancipated, (living away from home and paying your own way)
 - You are pregnant, or
 - You are in danger of harm from one or both of your parents;
- If you have previously had inappropriate sexual contact from any health care provider, and if you reveal the name of such provider, we are mandated to report this information to the appropriate licensing board;
- In the course of your session, if we have reason to suspect the abuse of a child or of a vulnerable adult, we are required by law to file a report of the alleged abuse to the appropriate county or state agencies. This report is required whether the alleged abuse occurs within your family or outside of it;
- In the course of your sessions, if, after careful and thoughtful consideration, we come to believe that there is a clear and imminent danger of your physically harming yourself or another person, we will take steps to prevent such potential harm, steps which will violate your confidentiality.

PHILOSOPHY: In most situations, the therapist's role is that of a consultant. The therapist's job is to help you think about what your problems are and explore possible solutions to your problems. The therapist will listen to you and give feedback about what he/she hears and what the therapist thinks your options are. Although the therapist will explore options with you, rarely will the therapist tell you what to do, because the decision and the responsibility to make changes in your life needs to be yours. Your job is to be more open and honest about yourself than you are in social relationships and to be committed to the process of counseling. You are responsible for deciding what to talk about in each session and deciding what your goals are. During the course of therapy, the therapist is likely to draw on various psychological approaches, which stem from the nature of the problem and the assessment of what will best benefit you. These approaches include behavioral, cognitive-behavioral, dynamic, existential, system/family, developmental, or psycho-educational. If you are not getting what you want, you have the right to ask for other treatments or for a referral to other professionals. If the therapist believes he/she is not being helpful to you, the therapist also has an obligation to help you find someone who might be more helpful. You may terminate treatment at any time. If there is ever a time when you believe that you have been treated unfairly or disrespectfully, please talk with your therapist about it. It is never the therapist's intention to hurt or offend clients, but sometimes misunderstandings can inadvertently result in hurt feelings. The therapist will want to address any issues that might get in the way of the therapy as soon as possible. This includes administrative or financial issues as well.

Referrals: We reserve the right to refer a client to a more appropriate type of therapy with other therapists if we assess that your needs are not likely to be best served by our staff.

Referrals to our Psychiatrist or Internist at Mt. Olivet Counseling Service: Clients are referred to our psychiatrist or internist only internally while maintaining a counseling relationship with one of our therapists, after three sessions with the therapist.

Client Bill of Rights

As a consumer of psychological services offered by psychologists licensed by the state of Minnesota, you have the right:

- To expect that a psychologist or therapist has met the minimal qualifications of training and experience required by the state law;
- To examine public records maintained by the Board of Psychology, which contain the credentials of a psychologist;
- To obtain a copy of the Rules of Conduct from the State Register and Public Documents Division, Department of Administration, 117 University Avenue, Saint Paul, MN 55155;
- To report complaints to the Board of Psychology, 2700 University Avenue West, Suite 101, Saint Paul, MN 55114; To report complaints to the Board of Marriage and Family Therapist, 2829 University Avenue S.E., #330, Minneapolis, MN 55414 (612)-617-2220;
- To be informed of the psychologist’s or therapist’s areas of clinical competence;
- To be informed of the cost of professional services before receiving the services;
- To be provided with a non-technical explanation about the nature and purpose of the psychological procedures to be used in your treatment, upon request;
- To be free from being the object of discrimination on the basis of race, religion, gender or other unlawful category while receiving psychological services;
- To be free from exploitation for the benefit or advantage of the psychologist or therapist;
- To privacy as defined by rule and law;
- To have access to your records as provided in subpart 1a and Minnesota Statutes section 144.335 subdivision 2;
- To be informed about disclosures of your private records that may be made without your written consent. Your information shared with the psychologist will be kept confidential unless you are in imminent risk of hurting yourself, you are in imminent risk of hurting another person, you know of minors or vulnerable adults who are being hurt or neglected, or you are a woman who is pregnant and using certain classes of illicit drugs. In those situations, appropriate emergency or health care personnel will be contacted in order to address those safety issues. If you have been exploited or abused by a previous psychological treatment provider, that provider’s licensing board will be contacted. Additionally, if a subpoena is issued and requires that a copy of your counseling records be turned over, the psychologist or therapist will be required to provide a copy of your records to comply with the court order;
- To refuse treatment at any time.

If you have concerns about the services you have been provided, you may also choose to file a complaint to your counselor’s supervisor. Concerns can be directed to John Henrich, PsyD,.LP, Director, Mt Olivet Counseling Service, 1804 West 50th Street, Minneapolis, MN 55419, 612-927-7335.
