Paul's Letter to Mount Olivet Church

What in the world could letters written two thousand years ago say to us today? It's an important question, but one we often don't think to ask when considering the letters of the Apostle Paul. It might be that we're so used to coming to church on Sunday and listening as someone reads a passage from "The Letter to the Romans" that we often forget that, before they were part of the New Testament, Paul's letters were just that: actual letters. Paul never imagined he was writing a new part of Scripture. Instead, he was trying to address the perils, problems, and possibilities of Christians new to the faith who were struggling to figure out how the Gospel might shape their life in the world.

We continue reading them today because, while many things have changed over the last two thousand years, some pretty essential things have not: we still struggle to understand our place in the world, we're still beset by insecurities and challenges, we still desperately want to be loved, be accepted, and lead lives of meaning and purpose. And the Apostle Paul's down to earth, passionate, and personal letters to Christians living in the first century address these and other questions with which Christians in the 21st century still wrestle.

While Paul is often called "The Second Founder of Christianity" because he took the Gospel to the edges of the known world, he was an unlikely candidate to be a follower of Jesus. As we recently heard in our Sunday readings from the Book of Acts, Paul initially persecuted the fledgling Christian movement, rounding up early believers and sending them to prison. But on the road to Damascus, Paul encountered the Risen Christ, who commissioned him to be "the Apostle to the Gentiles" and the rest, as they say, is history.

Except it's not just history. Paul's writings have continued to influence followers of Christ ever since he first wrote them. In fact, across the centuries, Paul has influenced the most significant theologians of the Church: from Augustine in the 4th century to Thomas Aquinas in the 13th, and from Martin Luther and John Calvin in the 16th century to Karl Barth in the 20th, Paul's insights into the grace of God in Christ and the shape of Christian life in the world continue to kindle hope in the hearts of believers.

For this reason, on Sundays this summer we'll be reading some of the best known passages from Paul's writings in a series we're calling, "St. Paul's Letter to Mount Olivet Church." Just a little background on Paul may help you enter into this series more fully. By way of timeline: Paul was likely a few years younger than Jesus and became a follower of him around 33-34AD. Paul embarked on three different missionary trips in the late 40s and early 50s, founding a number of largely Gentile congregations along the way. After getting a congregation started, Paul would move on, eager to spread the Gospel far and wide. He kept in touch with his congregations by letter, which are what we have collected in the New Testament. Paul was arrested in the late 50s and was eventually tried in Rome around 60AD. He spent several years under house arrest, continuing to teach the Gospel and writing to his congregations, before being executed for the faith sometime between 64-68AD.

Paul is chiefly known for his radical trust in God's grace alone. Perhaps because he had persecuted the Church yet was accepted by Jesus, he believed that no one was beyond the reach of God's love. His belief that Gentiles did not have to first become Jewish before becoming Christian and were therefore not subject to Jewish law stirred a lot of controversy in the early church, and Paul argued forcefully with some of the early leaders of the Christian movement, including Peter the disciple and James, the brother of Jesus, until his view prevailed.

This summer, we will read portions from three of Paul's Epistles (which is just a fancy name for "letter" 😊): Romans, 1 Corinthians, and Philippians. Each shares Paul's conviction that in the death and resurrection of Christ we see just how much God loves us, we receive the promise that God will never abandon us and, because our future and destiny are secure, we are invited into lives of service to others. Paul's message, as we'll learn together, continues to guide us as we seek to believe in the grace of God, belong to a servant congregation, and become the people and church God needs us to be. See you in church – both in-person and digitally – this summer!

DELAYED CONFIRMATION (FOR OVER 60 YEARS)

I first met our Mount Olivet Home resident, Ted, via an email from his daughter. She requested a spiritual care visit for her dad. In the email she shared a lot of general background information she thought would be helpful before I met with Ted in person. One specific life event she highlighted was that as a teenager, Ted was denied Confirmation by his pastor over 60 years ago. After being denied Confirmation, Ted left the church and church involvement. Ted's daughter stated that he has recently become more interested and active in spiritual practices and in his Christian faith.

It wasn't long after I introduced myself as a Lutheran pastor and the chaplain at Mount Olivet Home that Ted launched into the story of being denied Confirmation as a teenager. I could sense deep hurt and resentment coming from within his soul. It was clear to me that Ted felt wronged by a pastor and let down by the church. It was also clear that his renewed spiritual life was a source of joy and strength, yet tempered by never being Confirmed. I left that first meeting with Ted feeling sad for him and for all people that have left the church because of ungracious pastors.

At our second meeting, I asked Ted if he wanted to be confirmed here at one of our worship services in Lund Chapel. I'll never forget the radiant smile that broke out on his face and he said, "Oh, I would love to be Confirmed before I die." Arrangements were made with Ted's family for his Confirmation/The Rite of Affirmation of Baptism for Palm Sunday. It was a moving sacred experience for all who were present. Many tears of joy were shed. Ted was finally Confirmed and became a member of Mount Olivet Lutheran Church at 82 years of age. He has said several times since being Confirmed, "I am so glad to be a member of a church again." We are so glad to have Ted as part of our Mount Olivet Home community and Mount Olivet Lutheran Church.

DEVOTION

The song, "It's Hard To Be Humble" was written and recorded by American Country Music artist Mac Davis. It became an international hit in 1980. The opening verse is, "Oh Lord it's hard to be humble when you're perfect in every way. I can't wait to look in the mirror 'cause I get better looking each day. To know me is to love me, I must be a hell of a man, Oh Lord it's hard to be humble, but I'm doing the best that I can." It sounds like this guy's ego shows up days before he does! Ego stands for Edging God Out.

At times we can all get a bit "full of ourselves." When we act and believe as if we are at the center of the universe we're competing with God...we're acting as if we are God. Life goes better when we are 'right-sized.' God helps us with that. In Proverbs 11:2 we read, "When pride comes, then comes disgrace, but wisdom is with the humble." More words to live by are found in Philippians 2:3-4, "Do nothing out of selfish ambition or conceit, but in humility regard others better than yourselves. Let each of you look not to your own interests, but to the interests of others."

Our selfish motives can turn us into takers instead of givers. One way to remain humble is to remember what God has done for us in Christ Jesus. Daily turning our wills and our lives over to the care of God helps to "right-size" us. Blessings on your day. — PASTOR KALLAND

THE BUZZ AROUND THE BEES

The bees are back! Actually, they never leave as they winter in their hives on the roof of the church. Although it was a long cold winter, spring brought activity to the apiary, also known as the hive. As the temperature warms, the bees' diet changes from honey that was stored inside the hive to pollen. Since there was no pollen before any flowers appeared, the bees were fed a pollen substitute and given fresh water beginning in April. The flowerpots in front of the building then provided a natural source of pollen which can be seen on the bees' little legs as they return to the hive.

Last fall, I harvested two-and-a-half gallons of honey. This was a successful harvest considering last summer's drought, and with only two hives! This season we expanded to a total of six hives! The new bees came from the same local farm as last year and when they arrived, I unwrapped the existing hives and prepared them for another season. I also installed a monitoring system allowing me to monitor the internal temperature, humidity, weight, and I am able to count each bee as they come and go via my phone or a computer.

If you are interested in learning more about the bees, I will be hosting a class on Tuesday, June 21, at 10am at the Mpls Campus. Please register at mtolivet.org. If you have other questions, contact me at mnelson@mtolivet.org. Thank you all for your interest in honeybees!

MOUNT OLIVET SUMMER CAMPS

MEET YOUR 2022 SUMMER CAMPS STAFF!

BISHOP SCHUGEL

Hi everyone, my name is Bishop and I'm a student at Creighton University majoring in Journalism. I love working with kids because they have so much energy. They are a constant source of fun, and being able to help them learn and grow is an awesome thing to see. I am hoping the main thing kids will get out of this summer is a positive church experience. Mount Olivet has had such a positive impact on my life and it all started with my first summer camp experience!

JORRUN KUEHN

Hi! My name is Jorrun and I'm so excited to be working with the Mount Olivet day camps this summer! Next year, I will be a junior at Gustavus Adolphus College majoring in Communication Studies. This summer, I can't wait to get to know all of our campers and have so much fun making music, learning about cool subjects, and being creative! I am especially excited for nature camp and cooking week.

CADI STREETAR

Hi all! I'm Cadi and I'm so excited for this summer! I am currently a student at Augustana University majoring in Communication Disorders and ASL. The activities I'm looking forward to most are swimming, going on nature hikes, and cooking week! I hope that kids this summer will learn something new, engage in new activities, and all the kids meet new friends! I also want all the kids to leave their experience feeling like they belong, and embracing their true selves.

SOPHIE NORMAN

I'm Sophie and I'll be a junior in the fall at Gustavus Adolphus College. I love working with kids because of how goofy and imaginative they are. Every kid has a unique perspective on the world and I love hearing their stories and conversations about anything and everything! I'm looking forward to singing together, going on nature hikes, and doing all the fun and new arts and crafts activities that each theme week will bring!

Visit mtolivet.org/summer-camps to learn more about all Summer Day Camp options and to register. If you have questions, please contact Kristin Olson, kolson@mtolivet.org or 612.767.2246.

LIVING THE MESSAGE

EVERYTHING YOU EVER WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT THE NEW TESTAMENT

LIVING THE MESSAGE

This past year, the Living the Message Bible Study focused on the New Testament. Below are a few takeaways from this series taught by Pastors Ruud and Lose. Thank you to all who joined in— we hope you have many takeaways, too. (And please know it's never too late to take this series, you can watch the monthly videos found at mtolivet.org/education whenever you'd like.)

Next year's series will begin in October 2022 and focus on the heart of Christianity: learning more about the foundations of our faith through the stories told in Genesis to Revelation. More information to come. Consider making this one-hour+ monthly commitment a part of your life! Take time to grow in God's word. I promise it will be worth it.

- A “Gospel” is a declaration of good news.
- Jesus’ most prolific proclamation throughout the synoptic Gospels (Matthew, Mark, and Luke) center on the kingdom of God/heaven.
- The “maverick” Gospel of John has two main parts: the Book of Signs and the Book of Glory.
- The book of Acts hones in on three common and important threads about what it means to be the church for both the disciples of the early church—and also for us today: preaching and teaching the Word; fellowship; and service.
- Saul was a giant critic of the church prior to his conversion. Post-conversion, Paul became a missionary pastor who articulated a strong “gospel of grace,” and is often called the second founder of Christianity.
- Paul’s influence was so great that many wrote under his name. Those attributed-to-Paul letters have helped shape the theology and practice of the church in some wonderful ways, but they have also stoked fires of division in practice and proclamation as they dealt with new questions of order and practice within the churches, households, and communities of the early church.
- Revelation is less about predicting the future and more about God’s eventual triumph in the future. Revelation also speaks to the importance of worship, and drawing people into right worship.
- And above all: we are all children of God, God loves us, and we are not alone.

MOUNT OLIVET SUMMER MIDWEEKS

And It Was Good . . .

Spend this summer exploring the beauty of God’s creation. Genesis 1 poetically describes God’s creation of the sun, moon, and stars, and the plants, animals, and people over six days. God joyfully ended each day by declaring, “And it was good.” Then God rested on the seventh day. Join the Mount Olivet pastors each Wednesday at the Conference & Retreat Center from June 22 through August 3 as they preach through the seven days of creation.

Begin each evening with fellowship and delicious food. Join our site naturalist, Dan Kahl, for nature talks and take-home tips for enhancing the beauty of your own yards. Then gather together for worship.

Bus transportation will be available from the West campus, Minneapolis campus, and 7500 York. Please register for buses 72 hours in advance. A minimum of 10 people is required from each site to provide busing. If we need to cancel the bus, you will be notified 48 hours in advance.

Schedule: 4:30pm Buses leave West and 7500 York, 5pm Bus Leaves Mpls Campus, 5:30-6:30pm Dinner Served, 6:30-7pm Nature Talk, 7:15pm Worship, 8pm Bus Departs

Cost: Dinner and program $20. Bus Transportation $10.

Spring and Summer Rhythms

Spring finally arrived at Mount Olivet Conference & Retreat Center, and now summer is just around the corner. The wildflowers are blooming. Frogs are croaking in our wetlands. Bluebirds, wood ducks, hummingbirds, and orioles have returned as well. Guests are basking in the beauty of God's creation and in fellowship with one another.

Throughout the months of April and May, we hosted 13 church retreats, 13 non-profit organizations, eight individual and family gatherings, and seven Mount Olivet Lutheran Church groups, including a Junior-Senior High Retreat, a COP Preview Night for our rising third graders, and our annual Mother's Day Brunch. Hope, joy, and gratitude are in the air!

We are energized and excited as we head into our own busier season of programming in these next three months—outdoor concerts to inspire and entertain you, a summer midweek series to nurture your connection to God, and a week-long nature camp to encourage kids in their care of creation. We hope to see you soon!

Outdoor Summer Concert

Friday, July 15, 6-8pm,
Conference & Retreat Center,
$20 includes dinner and concert

Throughout the summer, we host three monthly outdoor concerts including local music, a delicious meal from the culinary team, and fun for the whole family.

Zach Spirov is a lifelong Minneapolis musician and urbanite. Among a variety of career choices, Zach spent seven plus years as a member of Mount Olivet's Youth Staff. Playing music in a performance setting, group gatherings, and special events has been a through line in his life, and has expanded over the last decade. He has played venues around the Twin Cities since 2008. Notable spots include 7th Street Entry, Aster Cafe, and the 318 Cafe. Zach is a genre blender, and has credited influence from a wide spectrum anywhere from Americana Folk, Gospel, and roots rock music, to RnB and hip-hop. He currently has a residency at the Troubadour Wine Bar in uptown every Thursday night. Zach is looking forward to reconnecting with old friends, seeing familiar faces, and sharing in a summer evening together at the Conference and Retreat Center. ## TENDING TO TRAUMA: YOURS, MINE, AND OURS

Monday, August 8, through Tuesday, August 9

Save the date for a retreat with therapist and professor Carla Dahl who will lead us in exploring how to relate to our personal trauma histories, how to recognize and tend to the evidence of traumatic experiences in others, and how to deepen our awareness of collective trauma. More information is available on our website at mtolivetretreat.org, and registration is now open.

Centennial Gala: A Night Out For Mount Olivet

What a night! Postponed for over two years, our Centennial Gala – A Night Out For Mount Olivet was one for the record books! With over 410 people in attendance, the Hutton House was packed with excitement, energy, a spirit of giving, and joyful celebration. Mount Olivet’s 100+ years of ministry was highlighted with pictures reflecting a century of service to our communities, with special attention paid to our affiliated ministries: Mount Olivet Home, Careview Home, and Day Services, Mount Olivet Rolling Acres, Cathedral of the Pines Camp, and the Mount Olivet Conference and Retreat Center.

Attendees mingled with old friends and made new ones, browsed and bid on the many silent auction items, enjoyed fabulous food, and celebrated the many ways our congregation supports and uplifts so many! It was also a night of joyful generosity, as through the Fund-A-Need drive, general donations, and silent auction proceeds we were able to raise over $115,000 for our affiliates.

Along with our many generous monetary and silent auction item donors and winners, the Gala Committee thanks our Centennial Committee, who donated funds to underwrite the food and venue for our evening, and also offers gratitude to our premium sponsors for the event: Warren Herreid and Jeannine Rivet, Kraus-Anderson, Atomic Data, Barry & Carla Becklin, Mary Hershberger Thun & David Thun, Brenda and Dave Odegaard, Bullis Insurance Agency, Washburn-McReavy, William & Judy Walter, Northland Securities, Elim Preferred Services, Gary & Launa Wert, Todd Klemmensen and Lakes Area Realty.

Thanks be to God for this rich history, and for the amazing works Mount Olivet and its affiliates have in store for the future.

LUTHERAN WORLD RELIEF

UKRAINE RELIEF UPDATE

The headlines related to the hardship and misery created by the unprovoked war in Ukraine have dominated so much of our news of late. As I write, more than 5 million refugees have fled Ukraine to other countries and the need and opportunity to assist them grows daily.

At Mount Olivet, we are supporting Lutheran World Relief's efforts to ease the suffering of these displaced children of God. LWR was started in the years after World War II and has more than 75 years of experience responding to emergencies in some of the most difficult parts of the world. As a member of the Board of Directors, I've been proud of the efforts of the LWR staff and also so grateful for the support Mount Olivet has offered to assist in these efforts. Here is a brief recap, as of May 15, of the ways our support – combined with that of so many other individuals and congregations – is making a difference:

Lutheran World Relief has committed $7 million to respond to the crisis in Ukraine and will expand that commitment as more funds come in. Inside Ukraine, we are supporting health centers by providing supplies such as surgical and wound care kits, IV kits, defibrillators, and stretchers. We are also providing ongoing support to six facilities that are being used to shelter internally displaced persons, which will provide nearly 60,000 nights of shelter for people who need a place to stay. In Poland, we are distributing emergency cash and vouchers to more than 1,300 refugee families for the next three months. We're also integrating a referral system at these sites to protect women and children from sexual exploitation and abuse.

None of this would be possible without the generous support of Mount Olivet and many others. Thus far, we at Mount Olivet have sent $80,000 to our partners at LWR and we will continue to collect and send funds. If you would like to support this effort, you can mark contributions to Mount Olivet "Ukraine," or you can support Lutheran World Relief directly by going to their website at lwr.org. Thank you, thank you, for your generous support. It is making a huge difference!

MOUNT OLIVET COMMUNITY MEALS

Thursdays, 4pm, Mpls Campus

Mount Olivet Church hosts a community meal of in-house scratch-made healthy meals, including entrée, soup, vegetable, salad, fruit, dessert and beverages. Dinners are served via curbside pick-up at our Mpls Campus. Dinner service begins at 4pm. These meals, free of charge, are our opportunity to support anyone who needs a meal or time spent with others. All are welcome every Thursday! Thank you for the donations of handled grocery bags! We currently have an abundance of bags for our community meals. Please recycle bags in another way at this time.
