The Summer of Gratitude

I have long believed that gratitude is the noblest emotion. Why? Three inter-connected reasons. First, gratitude, like love, is directed outward. When you are grateful you are suddenly not thinking at all about yourself – your wants, needs, grievances, griefs. You are focused instead on that person or thing for which you are grateful. Second, freed from self-preoccupation, gratitude affects and improves your entire outlook. The world seems better, the future more hopeful, the people around you of greater significance and value, when you are paying attention to reasons you have to be grateful. (Interestingly, I find that the more I give thanks, the more things I find for which to be grateful.) Third, in this way, gratitude creates energy and momentum. Weighed down by worry or a sense of grievance, it's hard to find the energy to move forward. But gratitude re-orientates you immediately to what is possible, to what is good, to what is worth working toward.

So, with that in mind, I'm officially declaring July the beginning of a Summer of Gratitude! (Okay, so I don't honestly know if I have any authority to do that, but then again, no one has told me I can't!) I'll begin by naming a few of the things for which I'm grateful, and then invite you to do the same. So, in addition to naming my family as my chief blessing, I would share these as five current Mount Olivet-related blessings for which I am particularly grateful:

1. New Pastoral Colleagues! It's exciting not just to replenish our pastoral team, but to grow it with three outstanding candidates to be associate pastors at Mount Olivet. Each is gifted, each brings different experiences and personalities, and each is excited to be here. So fun!
2. Cathedral of the Pines... and its 75th Anniversary! I am grateful for the vision of Pastor Reuben Youngdahl to create a camp where kids can get away, be themselves, form deep relationships with each other, and grow in their understanding of God's love for them and the world. I'm grateful for Pastor Paul Youngdahl's steadfast leadership of COP, his commitment to the youth of our church, and his willingness to invest so much of himself in camp. I'm incredibly grateful for the current leadership of Kristi Youngdahl and her contagious enthusiasm for all-things-COP with her deep and transparent love for our kids. This summer we get to celebrate Camp's 75th year of providing a holy (and fun!) sanctuary for kids that, frankly, has never been more important or needed than now.

3. Summer Day Camps! As I write, the first of our summer day camps is getting underway and the excitement and enthusiasm and laughter are just plain infectious! Along with our full-time preschool, our investment in a summer day camping program reflects our commitment to come alongside the parents and families of the communities we serve. And if you could see the delight on the faces of both campers and their parents, you would know it's a worthy investment!
4. Summer worship! I've found the summer preaching series on Unusual Suspects – folks that, from the outside, don't look too promising yet through whom God does amazing things – both personally inspiring and fun to preach. It's also been wonderful to hear the variety of guest musicians and soloists we're fortunate to have at our disposal. And... worship attendance has been fantastic! So keep coming – you won't regret it! – and when you're away, don't forget to livestream the service!
5. A generous, supportive, and bold congregation! At our latest Congregation Council meeting, we not only approved calling three pastors but also approved moving ahead with exploring how we might use the 1700 Chapel across the street from the Minneapolis Campus to better serve our community and become a much-needed gathering-place when so many people feel more isolated. If you've read the headlines of late, you'll know that few churches are growing and have the resources to dream new dreams and undertake bold ventures. We can! And that's because of your commitment, your faithful generosity, and your prayers!

So, there's my gratitude list. What's included on yours? Trust me, naming these things, giving thanks for them, and especially telling others when you are thankful for them will lift your spirits, give you new energy, and make you both more hopeful and more grateful. So here's to kicking off our Summer of Gratitude!

See you in Church (whether in-person or virtually)!

Pastor Lose

DAVID J. LOSE, SENIOR PASTOR

MEET OUR NEW PASTORS!

Following a successful congregational vote on June 16, 2024, Mount Olivet is excited to welcome three new associate pastors.

PASTOR
JENI GRANGAARD

Pastor Jeni Grangaard has served as a pastor since 2010, holding positions in Glyndon, MN; Jerusalem (as Coordinator of the ELCA’s Young Adults in Global Mission program); and most recently at Luther Seminary, St. Paul. She loves watching basketball (she played while a student at Augsburg), rooting for all MN sports teams, reading, baking, home improvement projects, and walking her Golden Doodle, Freddie. Pastor Grangaard’s husband, Colin, is also an ELCA pastor and they are the parents of two children, Amos (2nd grade) and Josie (5th grade, who will be attending COP for the first time this summer). Fun fact: her hometown of Longville, MN, is the Turtle Racing Capital of the World (at least according to Jeopardy). She will begin her ministry on July 7.

CANDIDATE
JENNA OLSON POPP

Pastoral Candidate Jenna Olson Popp is looking forward to being ordained this August at her home congregation of Southwood Lutheran Church (Lincoln, NE), where her dad recently retired as senior pastor. A recent graduate of Luther Seminary, she loves dogs and enjoys running and yoga. Her perfect day would be a long run in the morning and watching college football in the afternoon, holding a cup of coffee in one hand and petting a dog with the other. She met her husband, Cameron, at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, of which they are proud alum. They love to travel, with a goal of seeing a new country each year. Fun fact: her favorite comfort food is a not-too-greasy-but-not-too-fancy cheeseburger. Pastoral Candidate Olson Popp will start at Mount Olivet in mid-July.

PASTOR
KARL JACOBSON

Pastor Karl Jacobson has served in a variety of pastoral and teaching positions in Minnesota, Virginia, and California, most recently as Lead Pastor at Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd (Mpls). He is the author or co-author of several books and numerous articles with a particular focus on the Psalms. He enjoys golf, tennis, fishing, and spending time with family up North. He describes himself as a “resigned” Minnesota sports fan. His wife, Angela, is also an ELCA pastor and together they share five children (Thursday, Sam, Lucy, Nora, and Claire), a dog, and several cats. Fun fact: ever the diplomat, Pastor Jacobson played tennis at St. Olaf and has also taught in the Tennis and Life Camp at Gustavus. He will begin his part-time tenure at Mount Olivet in September.

SERMON SERIES: THE UNUSUAL SUSPECTS

This summer in worship we continue to look at a few of the unusual suspects in scripture. Some of these characters will be very well known, others will not, but the one thing they have in common is that God worked through each and every one of them to do something amazing — and they are far from model or ideal people. Join us at worship in July and learn more!

SUNDAY, JULY 7: Elijah
“Words of encouragement from an unexpected source.”
SUNDAY, JULY 14: A Samaritan Woman
“Shares the Gospel with everyone!”

SUNDAY, JULY 21: Mary Magdalene
“The resurrection’s first witness.”
SUNDAY, JULY 28: A Roman Centurion
“The outsider with big faith.”

DEVOTION

“Likewise the Spirit helps us in our weakness; for we do not know how to pray as we ought, but that very Spirit intercedes with sighs too deep for words.” –Romans 8:26

One of the great blessings of going to Cathedral of the Pines Camp is the evening worship service. There is time to sing, hear scripture, and listen to a short meditation. Near the end of the service, all the worshippers are invited to participate in “open prayer.” It’s a time to share prayers out loud (I know it doesn’t sound very Lutheran!). It is a beautiful thing to be part of. All the heads bow, the chapel is quiet, and slowly people start to pray. It’s amazing, the prayers always start with the same four words, “Dear God, thank you.” Then the person who prays shares a gratitude list. It’s humbling and inspirational.

Sometimes we have difficulty praying. A wise man shared decades ago that prayer “is like talking to your best friend.” Let God know everything that is going on with you. God knows that prayer is healthy and therapeutic. As Kierkegaard shared, “the function of prayer is not to influence God but rather to change the nature of the one who prays.” — PASTOR KALLAND

THANK YOU!

Those are the two words I want you to hear loud and clear as we approach the middle of the calendar and fiscal year. Thank you for your faithful pledging and estimates of planned giving made last fall. Thank you for your giving across the first half of 2024 that has kept us moving forward in mission. Thank you for your prayers for the vitality of this congregation. It all matters!

In fact, because of your faithful generosity, we’ve been able not simply to stay strong, but to grow in our Sunday School and Confirmation programs; in our Camp attendance (both COP and Day Camps), in our Preschool; in our outreach; and in a variety of our offerings on and beyond Sundays. More than that, across the first half of 2024, we were grateful to welcome another 250 new members to the life we share together. We’ve also been able to take care of our buildings, enhance our digital offerings, and add staff as necessary to meet the needs of our church and community. And, of course, your strong support allows us not only to replenish our pastoral staff, but to increase it to take advantage and encourage all the growth we are experiencing.

So, let me say once again: thank you! Thank you showing up for worship, for taking advantage of our streaming worship when you are away, for volunteering at church and beyond, for entrusting us with your generous gifts, for praying for each other, for showing up for the Gala and so many other events, and in all these ways for caring about the health of this faith community and, even more, for the mission with which God has entrusted us.

That is what Stewardship means – taking care of something on behalf of someone else. This is what you do so regularly and so well: steward your blessings, your gifts, your time, your finances, recognizing that God has given you all these things and more to help share the good news of Christ in word and deed. Thank you!
— PASTOR LOSE

INTERWOVEN RELATIONSHIPS

In November of 2023, I asked our college-aged members this question: “Why are young people falling away from church?” Dozens of responses later, two major themes emerged. 1) Many young people understand Christianity to be judgmental, hateful, and moralistic. It’s what they’ve heard all their lives from the loudest Christian voices. 2) Disillusioned young people have no idea that the church down the street might be different in any meaningful way from the Christianity of the culture warriors they see on campaign trails and social media. They do not know offhand the difference between a Methodist, Presbyterian, Southern Baptist, non-denominational, or Lutheran congregation, and they have no motivation to conduct field research on Sunday mornings. And so, many (soon it will be most!) have opted simply to throw the baby out with the bathwater, so to speak.

Young people at Mount Olivet have a remarkably different experience. They have a connection to church not based on political identity, culture war loyalties, or even theological convictions, but on a variety of interwoven relationships. They have fast friendships with peers they’ve met at church; they have trusting relationships with their pastors and many other adults who have accompanied them on their faith journey; they have a relationship to God, whom they understand to be a loving, gracious, and abidingly faithful figure. All these relationships cultivate a sense of belonging. They have a church home.

What I have learned from our young people is that this is the only approach to faith formation that has any chance of rooting the next generation in the church. If we lead with anything other than grace (and a community that reflects and extends that grace), our kids’ roots will be shallow indeed. We cannot batter and bully our kids into trusting God or loving church. Faith cannot be coerced. Our kids have taught me that, and they have taught me anew the power of the Gospel to accomplish what we cannot.

PASTOR DIXON

Pastor Dixon’s class, “The Rise & Fall of the American Christian Empire,” delves further into the topic of youth and the church, particularly in the fourth session. The videos of this class can be found at mtolivet.org/education if you’d like to hear more.

SUMMERTIME PLAYERS!

Last year was my first year of being a counselor for Summertime Players! and it was SO fun! I could tell the campers were having so much fun too. STP is a camp for anyone just looking to have fun. You get to go on fun field trips each day like pools, beaches, and bowling. And then we have a performance at the end of the week! My favorite memory was watching everyone get out of their comfort zones and have fun while dancing and singing! It's so cool to watch everyone come together and be friends no matter who you are or who you are friends with. This summer I am hyped to see returning and new campers bring their fun and high energy each day. STP is a time to be who you are with friends who are all here to support you! I'm very eager to come back to STP this summer and have so much fun again! —Marlie Smith, Counselor & Junior at Chanhassen High School

I have been super excited to be able to do Summertime Players! ever since I watched my older sisters do it when they were my age. Last year was my first year getting to participate in Summertime Players! and some of my favorite things were meeting new friends, doing fun activities every day, and getting to sing and dance to some awesome songs. This year I am really looking forward to seeing all my church friends again and to meet some new ones. I'm also excited to see what we will be singing and dancing to this year, because the music is always fun and energetic and it's really cool to be able to have a big performance at the end of the week. —Kassy Miller, Camper & 7th Grader at Twin Oaks Middle School
